Everyone welcome!

LUCENT Primary Care Grand Rounds

Dr. Griffin Myers is a board-certified emergency physician and entrepreneur focused on improving quality of and access to healthcare. In 2012 he founded Oak Street Health, a value-based primary care model throughout the midwest focused on providing high-quality, coordinated care to over 20,000 low-income older adults with chronic disease. Oak Street’s model has generated net promoter scores over 90%, strong evidence-based preventive care metrics, and an over 40% reduction in hospitalizations. Dr. Myers has a B.S. from Davidson College, an M.D. from University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine, and an M.B.A. from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business. He completed his residency in emergency medicine at Harvard Medical School’s Massachusetts General and Brigham & Women’s Hospitals. He is an Adjunct Instructor of Emergency Medicine at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine. He can be reached at griffin@oakstreethealth.com or on Twitter at @griffinrmyers.
